Commissioning Report Certification

The Commissioning Authority certifies that the air handling systems evaluated are capable of and were set up to provide the proper amount of ventilation air per ASHRAE standards and assuming the outdoor air conditions are within the ASHRAE recommended design conditions.

The ventilation units and associated accessories will need continued maintenance to consistently provide the required ventilation rates during various design conditions.

The information included in this report, as well as the associated testing and balancing report identifies any operational and installation deficiency issues associated with the equipment identified during the commissioning process.
